ROGERS COMPARES GIRL AIR DERBY TO BUNION MARATHON

(Special to The News)
SANTA MONICA, Cal., Aug. 24.—Bobby Jones, the amateur golfer, arrived in our city in a private car. It is a professional golfer left for east in a day coach, one of them had a sleeper ticket and was accused of being an amateur. The poor old professional in all our sports now just prays for the day when he can afford to be an amateur.

Claremont, Okla., has just grabbed another distinction. It's the only town between Santa Monica and Cleveland that Cleveland officials didn't make those poor girl aviators stop at. Talk about Pyle's bunion Derby running through every town that would put up and give anything, this race makes these girls land in every buffalo to wail that has a chamber of commerce, and put up a hot dog sandwich.

They even made 'em eat with Amos Carter.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Up at Westminster things are flying in preparation for the opening only about three weeks hence. Pa Newc understands that a large number of students are being enrolled for the coming term. While the new boys' dorm was used last year, it will be something new for classes to go to the new Old Main. That building was just reaching completion when school closed in June.

Opening of the new piece of concrete roadway between Edenburg and Hillsville will be welcome by all who must go over that road. Plans are to turn it over to traffic on Monday.

It reports from the Boy Scout Camp mean anything, and we know they only lightly tell of the things there, the 60 guests of New Castle Rotary certainly must have enjoyed the stay. They return today with a warm feeling of appreciation for the Rotarians.

When it comes to "squeezing" through that section of Sycamore Way between Mercer street and Apple Way, must any night of the week and sometimes at night after motorists have parked their machines practically up against the building—well, Pa Newc found it much better to go down the middle of the carway, taking a chance of being run down.

Superintendent of Schools, C. C. Green has his eyes set upon December 26, 27 and 28. While it still seems a long time away, nevertheless in planning for a convention such as the Pennsylvania State Educational association, which meets in New Castle at that time, one must begin early. All committees are lined up ready for action after September 1.

Many township students will awake only to hear the school bell summon them Monday morning. In various parts of the county schools will resume again for the fall and winter. City schools commence September 4.

The George Washington junior high won't miss much this year as far as athletics are concerned. Well, the field has been made from the lot of weeds that detracted from the beauty of the building last year. A football gridiron, tennis courts and a baseball field will be provided.

Pa Newc saw several persons wandering about the North street bridge last night before dark making their own individual inspections of it. When the bridge is open it will undoubtedly be a boon to pedestrians as well as to motorists.

Next Wednesday, August 28, New Castle day at the fair, most of all.

BALDWIN STOP WOMAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE AS HOME IS BURNED

Mrs. Wilson Stewart Jumps From Second Story Of Burning Home

Awakened By Cracking Of Flames—Loss In Fire About $8,000

Mrs. Wilson Stewart, aged about 45, of Baldwin Stop on the Harmony Line, barely escaped with her life when fire of unknown origin destroyed their home with a loss of approximately $8,000 shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Stewart was seriously injured when she was forced to jump from a second story window in her night clothes to save her life.

Mrs. Stewart who was alone in the house at the time, was awakened by the smell of smoke and the cracking of the flames. Rushing to the stairway through the smoke-filled hall, she was horrified to find her escape cut off by the flames from below. She crept out onto the window ledge, and hung in midair, screaming for help, but before neighbors could come to her assistance, she was forced to relinquish her hold and fell to the ground below, sustaining serious injuries.

Hoover Guards Carefully His Conference Aim

President Hoover Does Not Want Premature Publicity To Ruin Naval Parley

OTHER VENTURES HAVE BEEN WRECKED

Administration Officials Worried Over MacDonald-Dawes Negotiations

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Premature and excessive publicity has jeopardized more than one international undertaking. President Hoover doesn't want his proposed naval agreement with Great Britain imperiled from any such cause.

It is for this reason, largely, that the White House has applied the brakes to the talk of an Anglo-American agreement being just around the corner. "Satisfactory progress" has been made in the Dawes-MacDonald negotiations in London, but there is a long road ahead before there can be concrete accomplishment. And that road, incidentally, is filled with obstacles.

Officials worried.

Administration officials have secretly been rather worried over the effect the Dawes-MacDonald negotiations may be having upon the other world naval powers, Japan, France and Italy, whose co-operation is vitally essential to any worth while accomplishment in the field of further naval disarmament.

The Dawes-MacDonald conversations have not yet procured anything tangible enough to present to the other powers, and the excessively optimistic stories emanating from London and Washington of an Anglo-American agreement being at hand are considered likely to make the other powers suspicious and a bit resentful.

BIG HOSPITAL IS AGLEAM! LIGHTED FOR FIRST TIME!

For the first time, this week, the new Jameson Memorial hospital and the nurses home near Wilmington avenue, which are being inspected this afternoon and this evening, were lighted up.

Every window gleamed out its promise of mercy and hope and from a distance it looked like a citadel of light, each light a beacon of relief.

The effect was an impressive one for situated as it is on a high elevation, the lighted windows could be seen for miles. Every approach to New Castle commands a view of the hospital and the probabilities are that many of the visitors on Friday evening were attracted to it by the lighted windows.

The inspection continues this afternoon and it is hoped that the crowd of Friday evening will be duplicated and passed.

Unique Welcome For Big Zep In San Francisco

Big Fireworks Display Atop Mount Davidson Is Planned

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Plans for a unique welcome for the Graf Zeppelin were to be perfected at a meeting of a citizen's reception committee today in the office of Mayor James Rolph Jr.

Supervisor Milo Kent suggested to the committee, headed by George Hearst, that the round-the-world ship be greeted by a fireworks display atop Mount Davidson and an aerial bombardment.

Lieut. Col. Gerald C. Brant, commander of Crissy field, will report details of his arrangements for a fleet of airplanes to sail north to meet the dirigible and escort it into the city.

Every factory and steamship whistle will sound a salute as the Zeppelin arrives and circles over the city.

Daughter Receives Letter From Judd Gray Today

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A voice from the unknown spoke today to one that it's mortal master loved most.

Judd Gray, dead, these nineteen months since he and Ruth Snyder died in Sing Sing's electric chair for their murder of Albert Snyder, was speaking to the daughter he cherished above all—his little Jane, twelve years old today.

He was speaking not as a man who had loved unwisely and who had slain, he was speaking just as "Daddy."

The letter that Jane will receive today, although from a father long dead, is written in the tenor of a living parent advising a beloved child. There will be ten more of them, one each birthday anniversary until Jane is twenty-two. Jane Gray is living with relatives at Norwalk, Conn.

THOUSANDS INSPECT JAMESON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL ON FRIDAY

Magnificent New Institution Center Of Interest For Immense Throng

Hospital Also Open This Afternoon And Evening For Visitors

New Castle citizens turned out en masse yesterday, when the opportunity was given to visit the new Jameson Memorial Hospital on Leasure avenue, explore its seven floors of wonderment and from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 10 o'clock that evening, the corridors were thronged with an eager, appreciative, but withal, an orderly crowd.

People were present from far and near, and many intermediate points, for the news of the wonderful gift of the late David Jameson and his wife and daughter, Mrs. William D. McCreery has spread throughout the length and breadth of the land.

Estimate 15,000 There

It is estimated that fully 15,000 visited the hospital during the afternoon and evening. Parking space was at a premium along Wilmington avenue and the surrounding side streets for blocks in every direction.

It was a wonderful tribute to Mr. Jameson and his family and regret was expressed by many that he could not be present in person to witness their outpouring of gratitude.

From the basement floor, which contains the kitchen, cafeteria for the nurses and help, huge refrigerator and storage rooms, to the operating room and solarium on the top floor, the institution is filled with objects of interest.

New Golf Course Dedicated For Public Service

Ceremonies Conducted On Friday Afternoon Despite Rain

ATTORNEY DICKEY MAKES ADDRESS

Mayor Gillespie Tees Off First Ball—First Four-some Follows

Either the weather man got crossed on his dates, Friday, or else it was a mistake to ask a water company superintendent to handle an outdoor affair. Or perhaps the rain that gumbled things up was a part of the Farm Relief program everybody talks about, but doesn't understand.

You can write your own ticket as to the cause but whatever language you spell Municipal Golf Course Openings in, the answer is rain. Oodles of it, gobs of it, trickling down plus fairs and squoshing inside of shoes, but failing to say the spirit of the real golf fans who attended the formal, official, and public opening of the New Castle Municipal Golf Course on the Ellwood Road Friday afternoon.

It Was Tres Jolie

As those dear French say, the affair was "tres jolie", ah yes, yes, Beausoup tres jolie, and a cup of coffee. To those fortunate souls who brought their gums along the rain didn't matter so much, and it didn't rain all afternoon. Just the early part of it and of course held down the crowd.

But to those who did attend the opening of the muny golf course, the affair was interesting. It marked the throwing open of a place where every citizen can enjoy golf at a moderate price, where no one will feel any burden in expense, and where the people of the city can repair for exercise, sunshine and fresh air.

At one o'clock when the opening was scheduled to get under way the rain was still acting like a sprinkling can on a spree. By one fifteen the weather man pulled himself together and the exercises got started.

Program Opens

Howard B. Richards, the general chairman of the day opened the program with a short address. "Last (Continued On Page Seven)"

Out where the smoke of the city's mills, is seldom if ever seen, out where there is no noise or fuss, out where the fields are green, out where the road is a rattled track, like a stern and a rock bound coast, that's where the folks will all be today, at the game farm's big or roast. Speeches and sandwiches, sports and shoots, plenty to see I wot, and the day is fine, it's a eighty-four and the weather will likely be hot.

Women Fliers Resume Derby

Cleveland Girl Leads Air Derby
by Racers Out Of Wichita For Kansas City

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 24.—Taking off from the airport here at 9 o'clock, Blanche Kovacs, Cleveland, O., led the entrants in the Women's Air derby on their flight to Kansas City.

She was followed at two-minute intervals by May Halzlip, Tulsa, Okla.; Von Mack, Opel Kunz, New York; Edith Feltz, Portland, Ore.; Walker, Los Angeles; Mrs. Keith Miller, Australia; Neva Paris, Great Neck, L. I.; Thina Rasche, Germany; and Ruth Elder, Hollywood.

Her troubles with the department of commerce over her license ironed out. Then Rasche was able to continue her flight to Kansas City.

Girl Upsets Plane
Applying her breaks to suddenly Gladys O'Donnell, second place flier in the derby, nosed over while testing her plane prior to the take-off. She was "gunning" her ship, when she brought it to a sudden stop. The machine careened over. The flier scrambled out unhurt and was expected to take off with the remainder of the fliers.

Shortly after the take-off, observers here reported a plane was forced down five miles northeast of the airport and three planes took off to assist the woman.

The Department of Commerce notified race officials that Miss Rasche's license to fly in America expired July 15 and had asked them to withdraw her from the competition. A similar notice was sent to Kansas City. However officials here permitted Miss Rasche to continue her flight when she showed them a telegram from the Department of Commerce granting her a license.

the city's business establishments will close at noon. It's New Castle's own exposition and we're obligated to support it, at least, on New Castle day.

New Castle has had two epochal dedication ceremonies in the past few days—the Jameson Memorial hospital on Thursday night and the municipal golf course on Friday afternoon. Both will fill a large place in the progress of the city and both are important steps in New Castle's progress.

In the crowd of thousands who inspected the new Jameson Memorial hospital last night there was none who was not amazed at the completeness and the magnificence of this new institution. It is not surpassed anywhere except in size.

Caddies for the New Castle Field club who congregate along Highland avenue to secure a lift out to the club should exercise more care in their "thumbing." They stand out in the street at times in a way that is a real traffic hazard.

This is a great day for the sportsmen of Lawrence county. It is the day of the dedication of the Jordan State Game farm near Harlansburg. The state secretary of agriculture, Dr. Charles G. Jordan, for whom the farm was named is here to attend the affair and to receive the honors at the formal ceremony.

Lightning yesterday did rather a queer stunt on Englewood avenue. It apparently hit the electric wires somewhere and travelled into houses along the street. Fuses in the homes were blown out but no other damage was done. The street circuit was also affected as some of the lights were out of commission last night.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey, U. S. department of commerce, recently issued a publication entitled "Earthquake History of the United States Exclusive of the Pacific Region." This publication, which should be of interest in view of the recent earthquake in this section, contains a record of all earthquakes of a force sufficient to be generally felt, from the earliest records to the end of 1927, and also includes a discussion of earthquake conditions in the various states. This publication may be obtained for 15 cents per copy from the superintendent of documents, government printing office, Washington, D. C.

Irene having gone to Sharline, O. to visit relatives, while Samuel and Emma were attending a social function. Mr. Wilson was summoned from his work to find his home a mass of ruins.

The structure was a nine room frame house. It was completely destroyed along with the household furnishings. Mr. Wilson stated this morning that the loss is only partly covered by insurance.

Mrs. Wilson was taken to the home of her mother, Mrs. Emma Hill of Baldwin, Stop, where she received medical attention. Her condition today is said to be quite serious, as she is suffering greatly from the shock in addition to her injuries.

The members of the family are being cared for at the home of relatives for the present.

STAR LORE EVIDENCE OF VEGETATION ON MARS

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter
Mars has an atmosphere with the essential quality for supporting life, viz., oxygen. Until quite recent years the presence of oxygen had not been definitely established. But the spectroscopic reveals both oxygen and water vapor in the atmosphere of Mars. It is impossible as yet to make a full analysis of Mars' atmosphere. The evidences for the changes of the seasons on Mars are in harmony with what would appear with the development and final decay of vegetation. When the Martin springtime returns to one of its hemispheres, there comes a darkening with greenish tints in that hemisphere, suggesting that vegetation is appearing.

Lightning Strikes Building In City Miner Found Dead, Clues Are Missing

Lightning struck a building at 936 Moravia street Thursday afternoon following the radio wire into a store room occupied by G. Cassachia and inflicting considerable damage.

The force of the bolt heated the wire red hot and scorched the side of the building and interior of the room in a number of places. An alarm was turned in from box 53 and the fire and central departments answered, but found no fire had resulted.

The wire was melted in two in several places by the heat from the heavy charge and the paint on the wall was badly scorched in many places where it came in contact with the wire.

PASSING OF A VOICE

JOHN B. DANIEL is dead, and his loss will be felt by millions of people throughout the country. Of that number only a few had been personally acquainted with him and probably only a small percentage of them are familiar with his face. But all of them knew his voice, for John B. Daniel was an announcer for the National Broadcasting Company and was perhaps better known than any other announcer with the exception of Graham McNamee.

It was not so many years ago that another man died who was known throughout the world solely by his picture. That was John Bunny. At the time the universal regret at his passing was noted as a marvel of the scientific age. It would have been impossible then to realize that in a comparatively few years a voice would become as familiar to millions of people through the radio as a face had become through the movies.

The two incidents mark the rapid strides that mechanics has made in little less than a decade. It causes one to pause and wonder what new marvel may arise in the next 10 years or so that will result in comment such as that which attended the death of John Bunny and attend the death of John B. Daniel.

TO PROTECT SCHOOL CHILDREN

State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Benjamin G. Eynon today suggested to Pennsylvania public school authorities that on the curb line in front of every school building, for the entire length of the property, they erect iron fences or cable railings, so that school children upon their release from studies cannot dart into the path of passing motor vehicles.

"For the first few moments after school is dismissed," said Commissioner Eynon, "youngsters are so full of life that they are even more careless than usual. Erection of fences or cable railing will restrain them for several minutes, at least—and the very presence of the barrier will remind them to be cautious."

Pennsylvania schools are now reopening for another term. During the first six months of 1929 over nine hundred children were struck by motor vehicles, 48 being killed. In the majority of these accidents the victims were five to fourteen years of age. Reopening of the schools means that unless motor car operators are cautious the percentage of deaths among children of school age will increase.

"Operators of motor cars who see children playing upon sidewalks, or in groups walking, and who do not slow down so that they may stop their cars instantly, are so lacking in good judgment and common sense as to rate themselves of borderline intelligence—and I am not sure they are fit to be entrusted with the driving privilege."

"The matter of a 'legal right-of-way' does not really enter into this problem. Children are naturally careless; all the laws in the world will not make them otherwise. Motorists, therefore, must be continually on the alert to safeguard them. The courts are inclined to deal harshly with those who kill or injure children. For this reason, if no other, selfish drivers should be careful. Courteous, considerate men and women, of course, need not be reminded that they should drive carefully."

WANING HOPE FOR SWISS TRANSATLANTIC FLIERS

There seems to be scarcely a chance left that the two young Swiss aviators, Keeser and Laeschner, have survived the fall of their plane in the Atlantic Ocean between the Azores and the coast of Nova Scotia. If they are lost it is the seventh tragic failure to cross the North Atlantic from east to west—and most of those failures can be written down to lack of the proper equipment to assure safety in case of a forced landing in the water.

The monoplane Jung Schweizerland was almost entirely unsuited to the terrific test of a transatlantic flight, and neither of her pilots was competent to correct her course or determine her position by celestial observations at sea. Against that says the Philadelphia Inquirer is the fact that they laid a course from Lisbon and made a landfall at one of the Azores Islands, 800 miles away. A slight error or the effect of leeway might have carried them entirely away from their objective; and while the continent of North America is too big a mass for a westbound flier to miss, the distance of routes from the Azores to the mainland varies so greatly on courses differing by but a few degrees that failure or success is bound up in accurate navigation.

The most reasonable conclusion is that the Swiss plane was downed either because of motor failure or exhaustion of fuel. Once in the water the adventurers had the wreckage, including empty gasoline tanks, with great buoyancy and a rubber lifeboat and life jackets. There is always the chance that they were picked up by some vessel unequipped with wireless, or that they will be seen by a passing ship before their ordeal overcomes them; but, lacking knowledge, there is little left save a desperate chance for their survival.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

DIRECT ACTION
A Texas Judge with three well-aimed shots from his trusty rifle put the neighbors radio set completely out of business. The judge has been receiving congratulations from all over the county.

Now of course the judge was wrong. At least he was a little hasty. And yet one can sympathize with any man who occasionally seeks direct action instead of going the longer way around. We are all descendants from the same savages. And in this case the circumstances were extenuating. The judge's neighbor was a cabaret and the judge had sick children in the house.

and apparently nothing important to do. When she began to write that she "cared not for right or wrong" she started toward the gate. Long before death came in Chicago she had gone out.

DON'T-GET-EXCITED-CLUB
The attention of column readers is called to the following by Harry Daniel, writing in Thrift Magazine: "There are clubs and societies for every conceivable purpose under the sun, yet one of the most obvious needs of Americans today is left entirely uncovered. What we need is a don't-get-excited club whose object shall be to keep people from coming to the boiling point when it isn't necessary."

"The trouble with most of us is we get too excited over little things and not excited enough over the big ones."

"Agitation, loss of temper and surrender of self-command over the trivial annoyances of life are a sheer waste of time and energy. In most human affairs more can be accomplished through poise and placidity than through effervescence and seismic phenomena."

"If a don't-get-excited club could be so organized as to conserve all the human voltage that now goes to waste through needless excitement it would mean that mankind had reached the suburbs of a new era."

PEACEABLY BY FORCE
Dr. Garfield, president of Williams College, says: "I question the intelligence of anyone who thinks that men can be made peaceable by force."

This does not mean that a number of men should not be kept locked up so they can go through the motions of being peaceable whether they really feel that way or not.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:45. Sun rises tomorrow 6:20.

It isn't up to any particular resident or citizen to do things for his home city, but it is up to every citizen to do all he can for his home town. Some birds think it's up to some particular persons and they are not expected to do anything. That's wrong of course.

The only real use for science is to ascertain truth.

TODAY'S STORYETTE
A real estate salesman tried to sell a house to a newly married couple. Said the wife: "Why buy a home. I was born in a hospital ward, reared in a boarding school, educated in college, courted in an automobile, married in a church, got my meals in a cafeteria, live in an apartment, spend my mornings playing golf, my afternoons playing bridge. In the evening we dance or go to the movies; when I'm sick I go to the hospital and when I die I shall be buried from an undertaker's. All we need is a garage with a bedroom."

There are people who are surprised how easily they can get along by cutting out a lot of their eating. And they are even more surprised when they find the household expenses just as big when about all the members of it have just about quit eating entirely.

No settlement is a settlement unless it is fair to all concerned.

It is said that every other man is looking for an easy job, political or any other kind. We think the percentage quoted is too low.

If the average golfer would only strive for the same efficiency in business as he does in golf. Whew! Oh wham do doodle wham!

"I have tickets for the theatre." "Good, I will start dressing at once." "Do, dear, they are for tomorrow night."

A daughter of the late W. J. Bryan has been given a divorce because her husband called her names and failed to speak to her for days at a time. They were married in 1911 and have four children. Well, she has something to remember her first marriage by anyhow.

An undertaker in Massachusetts was arrested for sticking an embalming needle into the head of a dead automobile tire. He must have been trying to make business but dead automobile tires are better for garage workers.

"Do you really love me?" "Yes." "How much?" "Well, here's my check-book. You can look over the stubs."

Waves of indignation sweep over the country, but unfortunately or fortunately they are never of the permanent variety.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

Fifty-third installment of a Diary kept by Lawrence A. Wilson, of San Diego, California, upon his visit to Russia in 1928, published exclusively in The New Castle News.

A trip across Siberia is strikingly similar, going West to East, to a trip across the American continent from East to West. One starts from the great "melting pot" of population, pushes through a thickly inhabited region. Then one comes to the Ural mountains which correspond to our Appalachians. Here are industrial centers like Pittsburgh. Then we cross the prairie lands, fertile and rich in green foliage. There are then the great "flats," like our Ohio and Mississippi. Then one comes to rolling lands with the tundra, like the rolling lands of Iowa, Lake Michigan, too, corresponds to our Lake Michigan. Then there are the higher plains, covered with bunch grass like Western Nebraska and Eastern Colorado. The Alai Mountains correspond quite closely to our Rockies, extending from the southwest to the northeast. Then there is the Mongolian Desert, like our Great Basin. And, finally, the desert shall finally come to the Coast Range and then the slopes of the Pacific, the same Pacific by which we live in California. Of course, the scale of these comparative journeys in Siberia and North America would be about two to one.

We are still going by Moscow time. It seems strange to wake up in daylight and be told that by standard time it is still midnight. When we get to the frontier we should have set our watches seven hours ahead, but we shall still be going by the same time by which we left Moscow.

Bible Thought For Today
Our Father's Cure—Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.—Matthew 10:29, 30, 31.

Prayer:
"I all on earth forsake,
In wisdom, faith, and power,
And thine my shield and tower,
My shield and my high tower."

"Agitation, loss of temper and surrender of self-command over the trivial annoyances of life are a sheer waste of time and energy. In most human affairs more can be accomplished through poise and placidity than through effervescence and seismic phenomena."

"If a don't-get-excited club could be so organized as to conserve all the human voltage that now goes to waste through needless excitement it would mean that mankind had reached the suburbs of a new era."

This does not mean that a number of men should not be kept locked up so they can go through the motions of being peaceable whether they really feel that way or not.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:45. Sun rises tomorrow 6:20.

It isn't up to any particular resident or citizen to do things for his home city, but it is up to every citizen to do all he can for his home town. Some birds think it's up to some particular persons and they are not expected to do anything. That's wrong of course.

The only real use for science is to ascertain truth.

TODAY'S STORYETTE
A real estate salesman tried to sell a house to a newly married couple. Said the wife: "Why buy a home. I was born in a hospital ward, reared in a boarding school, educated in college, courted in an automobile, married in a church, got my meals in a cafeteria, live in an apartment, spend my mornings playing golf, my afternoons playing bridge. In the evening we dance or go to the movies; when I'm sick I go to the hospital and when I die I shall be buried from an undertaker's. All we need is a garage with a bedroom."

There are people who are surprised how easily they can get along by cutting out a lot of their eating. And they are even more surprised when they find the household expenses just as big when about all the members of it have just about quit eating entirely.

No settlement is a settlement unless it is fair to all concerned.

It is said that every other man is looking for an easy job, political or any other kind. We think the percentage quoted is too low.

If the average golfer would only strive for the same efficiency in business as he does in golf. Whew! Oh wham do doodle wham!

"I have tickets for the theatre." "Good, I will start dressing at once." "Do, dear, they are for tomorrow night."

A daughter of the late W. J. Bryan has been given a divorce because her husband called her names and failed to speak to her for days at a time. They were married in 1911 and have four children. Well, she has something to remember her first marriage by anyhow.

An undertaker in Massachusetts was arrested for sticking an embalming needle into the head of a dead automobile tire. He must have been trying to make business but dead automobile tires are better for garage workers.

"Do you really love me?" "Yes." "How much?" "Well, here's my check-book. You can look over the stubs."

Waves of indignation sweep over the country, but unfortunately or fortunately they are never of the permanent variety.

Hope To Complete New Tariff Bill By January First

Senator James E. Watson, Serves Ultimatum On Republicans

DEMOCRATS ARE KEENLY OPPOSED

Important Legislation In Next Congress Will Be Given Preference

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The new tariff bill must be enacted into law by next New Year's Day at the latest or the Republican leadership in congress will seriously consider its abandonment.

This was the virtual ultimatum served on the senate today by Senator James E. Watson (R) of Indiana, the majority floor leader. He indicated the bill would be abandoned and all tariff revision postponed indefinitely if the pending tariff battle in the senate is dragged out into the new year.

Blame Democrats
"If this bill is not a law and signed by the president on Jan. 1, next, we will not permit the Democrats to jockey it through the next regular session," said Watson. "If it is defeated by delay, the Democrats will then be to blame."

The Republican leader indicated there would be important legislation pending in the next regular session which would be given preference over the tariff. He may have had in mind a possible naval disarmament treaty, growing out of the approaching visit of Premier Ramsay MacDonald, of Great Britain.

Other important matters, which likely will be pending in the new year, will be the Vane case, a railroad consolidation bill, a measure affecting regulation of telegraph, telephone and radio companies and reforms in the Indian service.

To Permit Debate
Watson declared the Republicans were ready to permit ample debate on the bill but he warned they would not countenance anything resembling a filibuster.

"We welcome debate on the bill, so we can have an opportunity to defend the increased protection for agriculture and industry," he said. "We also welcome criticism."

"We want the people to understand our position and the position of the opposition. Once the issues are established, any further delay in its enactment will mean one thing—a deliberate purpose to keep this bill off the statute books. If that happens, we intend to fix the blame where it belongs."

Democrats Smile
The Democratic tariff-makers smiled at Watson's ultimatum. They indicated a belief the Republican leadership would never abandon the bill, so long as the industrial increases are retained in it. If the senate should slash the industrial rates, they implied, then the Republican leadership might be entirely willing to postpone enactment of the remainder of the bill—which would include only the agricultural schedule and the numerous administrative changes.

Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee meanwhile are drafting amendments to the industrial schedule. Under the plan of Senator Simmons (D) of N. C., minority tariff leaders, the Democrats will concentrate their tariff assaults on a few important schedules and rates, the new flexible tariff provision and the step taken toward adoption of U. S. valuations. Some Democrats however, favor a fight to strike all the industrial increases from the bill.

The latter maneuver has the support of Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, and other insurgents. Borah indicated he thought a Democratic-Insurgent coalition might succeed in this strategy after debate begins in the senate next month, even though the senate—by a single vote margin—rejected a similar proposal last June. He said a final decision on this action would not be reached until all the insurgents arrive here and confer on the subject.

The TOWN DOCTOR

(The Doctor of Towns)

Says:

WHERE IS YOUR TOWN GOING?

Two speaking engagements in one day were 150 miles apart by way of paved roads, so it was decided to take an unmarked shortcut.

As we drove, we kept inquiring, "Is this the way to Blankville?" Those to whom the question was put in each case replied, "Where you going?" I decided to ask the next fellow where he was going.

We overtook a man in an open buggy. "I say 'buggy' - it was once, no doubt, but could hardly be called that 'as was'." One wheel dished in, another dished out, a front wheel dished both ways. There was no dashboard, the buggy seat had been replaced by a soap box, and if there ever had been paint applied to any part of it, all traces had been obliterated. Seated, or had it better said, perched on the box that served for a seat, a hunched over, was a bewildered individual, adorned with raiment much patched and seldom, if ever, washed. As we signaled for half the one-lane road, he clucked and pushed on the lines that hung over the rump of the most ungraciously spavined specimen of horse flesh I ever had the displeasure of beholding. Slowing to the pace of his speed, I made salutation with "Where you going, brother?" He turned slowly toward us, evacuated sufficient volume of deep brown liquid to make speech possible, and replied, "Oh, I'm just ridin' in to ride out".

To say I was nonplused would not describe it - I was flabbergasted and stumped. Here is the season of the year a man whose occupation could be none other than one demanding all of his time, was "just ridin' in to ride out". "Why?" I asked, and he replied, "Wa'al, there ain't no chores about the place, so might as well kill time one way as t'other."

There are many towns just like that - "just ridin' in to ride out" saying there isn't anything to do.

If the vehicle your town uses to get somewhere is a wornout, old-fashioned, ram-shackle dilapidated, patched-up affair, with a spavined, buck-kneed, string-haltered means of locomotion, the thing to do is wake up to modern ways of doing things. Give your ideas and ways of going things a shave, shampoo and hair cut. Throw away your home spun jeans and get yourself into a pair of 1936 pants. By so doing, others will do likewise and then, and only then will you get some place.

Where is New Castle going? It must be going some place - ahead or backward. If it is "just ridin' in to ride out", it's standing still, which is going back, and soon stagnation will set in, which is even worse than complete annihilation.

Old City Ordinance Forbids Swimming In Any Local Stream

Were New Castle's city fathers of seventy years ago to stroll down East Washington street today and see the new sun-bath dress being worn upon bobbed-haired, stockless girls, never would they be so horrified in all their lives. We rather fear for them.

And there remains no doubt that those gentlemanly lawmakers would get a shock, a real shock, if a city ordinance just uncovered represents the trend of thought of their day. It was in 1858, just 71 years ago, that councilmen established as law a certain provision against public indecency that to us seems quite ridiculous, or perhaps only better judge.

Hidden deep in the city ordinance book is a law, prescribed as follows:

DISORDERLY CONDUCT AND INDECENCIES

No. 21

AN ORDINANCE

AGAINST PUBLIC INDECENCY

Be it enacted, etc., that from and after the twenty-ninth day of June, inst., it shall be unlawful for any persons or persons, to bathe or swim during the day, in any canal, creek, or public stream within the limits of said borough, and any person duly convicted of bathing or swimming as aforesaid shall be fined not less than five nor more than ten dollars.

Approved June 11, 1858. I O. B. 57 (City of New Castle).

True it is, it was passed away back when New Castle was only a borough.

Those who dared to trespass against the law might have found it a high-priced swim, even if it was in a dirty old canal, minus showerbaths, slides and the whatnots of the most gorgeous pool of today.

But the reporter searched farther, and as sure as the darkness falls the law still prevails. No, don't snicker. It was President Hoover who told the people to heed respect for law. But apparently the ordinance was never repealed, at least expressly.

Hurrying to the office of the city clerk, an inquiring reporter and an attorney who also wished to know asked her if she could determine just when it was repealed. But 1858 folks is 1858, not 1928, and fingering through the law books they have there in search of a certain thing is not so good, or easy at any rate.

The clerk glanced at every resolution, ordinance, repealed ordinance and the laws that pertained to any such as might show the swimming law repealed, but nowhere could she establish proof where it has expressly been annulled.

Then to one of New Castle's councilmen the cue went, told him of our mission and after he'd made a hurried scan of the ordinances in the book which lay upon his desk, he said that it would be a matter hard to say. "Perhaps it was repealed by implication," said he, "but I have no exact knowledge of that." At least it was hard to settle.

Legally, as the lawyers say, the ordinance is still enforceable for there is nothing to show that it's been annulled. Boys swimming under the East Washington street bridge need fear the cops and those who've established a bathing center on up the Washannock must stay under cover, or else come out and indulge in their swim at night.

But what a change this ordinance does indicate. Then it was considered disorderly to appear, even as they did, in suits from their necks to toes. Today—well, the suits speak loud enough for themselves.

The reporter, nevertheless, realizing what all the legal dangers of the ordinance on our city books might imply, fears no one will run from the streams, beaches and other pools when the cops draw nigh.

night," said he, "on another hill, there was dedicated to the public use, a hospital, the gift of the Jameson family. Today we are dedicating to the public use, another institution which seeks to build up the health of the community, provide wholesome recreation at a nominal fee, and give the citizens of New Castle the opportunity to enjoy the great outdoors. While the day is not as nice as we might ask, yet the committee feels that this formal opening should take place and for this purpose we are gathered here. The first number of the day's program will be the raising of an American flag, the gift of H. L. Gordon, manager of the Johnstone Limestone Company. The pole from which it will float, 80 feet from the ground is the gift of the Carnegie Steel Company, through the courtesy of the general superintendent, Robert J. Tully."

Boy Scout Flag Raising

Ralph Davis, in charge of the Boy Scouts present then asked Perry Ober, assistant Scout Executive in charge of the Ellwood City district to handle the flag raising ceremonies.

Canoness William Leicht fired a salute, and the color bearers, Bud Gorman and William O'Connell marched to the pole and as the flag was raised, Bugler William Woodworth played "To The Colors" while the crowd stood at attention.

General Chairman Richards then introduced the speaker of the day, Attorney William W. Dickey, president of the New Castle Field Club, who delivered the dedication address. He said, "It seems to me that the reason for this weather today is the fact that a water superintendent was chosen chairman of the day. Hence the rain."

Second Opening

"As the chairman has told you, this is the second formal opening within twenty four hours in New Castle. The first one, that of the wonderful Jameson Memorial Hospital, was the result of the foresight of David Jameson and his family. This municipal golf course is the result of the foresight of our city council and a group of men who were willing to lend their aid, both financial and otherwise, towards providing the citizens with a place where the great game of golf could be enjoyed."

"The splendid new hospital will care for the sick and injured, bind up the wounds and restore to health those who are afflicted. This golf course we hope will so build up the health of the citizens, provide them with wholesome recreation and afford them an opportunity of enjoying the great outdoors, that the need for hospitals will be lessened."

"In order to enjoy this golf course, one need not be a good golfer. Indeed I think the poor golfer like myself enjoys the game better than the chap who plays it well, for the dull golfer doesn't worry about his score."

"The idea of a golf course has its origin in the minds of a few far-sighted men who believed a municipal course was due the people of this city. Five hundred eighty signed up to pay a fee of $20.00 to get it started, and representing them William J. Offutt went before council and laid the matter before that body."

Construction Cost Low

"We are here today to open this splendid golf course, but I believe that you should know something of the cost of it. Ordinarily such a course would cost about $50,000.00. Through the generosity of a group of citizens, the cost of it has been held down to $13,000.00 and the total cost will not run over $18,000.00."

"Now this just didn't happen. It happened because such men as Robert J. Tully of the Carnegie Steel, Daniel B. Woolcock, Rex Vesoh, Sid Shaddock and others of the Carnegie Steel Company, and such men as H. L. Gordon, Roy Shira, Marvin Dinsmore, Lloyd Strayer, J. P. Toier and others of the Johnston Limestone Company put in hours of labor free. Because the New Castle Water Company consented to have the water for the golf course, because the Bell Telephone Company, the P-C Electric Company, The New Castle News, the New Castle Mining and Lead Products Company, and others lent their aid cheerfully and willingly. Because William J. Offutt and his committee, of H. L. Gordon, R. J. Tully, J. M. Smith and H. B. Richards gave of their time and energies to see that the work was done properly. These are the reasons why the cost has been kept down and why we are able to open such a splendid course at a nominal cost. The people of the city owe these men a debt of gratitude and I want to publicly acknowledge the debt."

"Your city council is to be commended for this course, for in the years to come, the people will realize more and more that golf is not an idle game, not a game that requires professionals to play, but that it is a game designed to get them out into God's sunshine and fresh air, where they can work off their troubles in good wholesome exercise. I congratulate all those men who have a part in this work of providing this golf course."

Mayor Tees Off

"Then the official opening of the grounds, Mayor William H. Gillespie, golfer par excellence, and student of the game stepped up to number ten tee, situated in front of the club house and carefully placed a little wooden tee in the ground. Next a white golf ball.

Then with the courage of a Spartan, or an Horatio at the bridge, or of an Ajax defying the lightning, the mayor measured the distance off. Next he adjusted his club, a left handed club, for the mayor bats from the port side.

Closing his eyes in a prayerful attitude, and murmuring something that sounded like "It won't be long now" the mayor swung. Lustily, manfully, courageously. But it was all in vain. The mayor was making a left handed swing at a right handed golf ball, and the pesky thing traveled all of two feet seven and one half inches from the tee. Nothing daunted he placed a second ball and managed to punch it nearly forty five yards away. Another one and this time the distance had increased to 150 yards. Success, and the huzzas of the multitude. The mayor had snatched one down the fairway and the course was open.

Then a Foursome

Following the mayor's initiation of Bobby Jones the first foursome stepped out, consisting of William J. Offutt, R. J. Tully, Howard B. Richards and Roy Shira.

Offutt got about 200 yards with his ball, Tully about 100, Shira a out 150 and the last seen of Mr. Richards' ball it was sliding to the right headed for town. He has the honor of losing the first ball on the municipal course, which is something akin to having the honor of tripping over a fire plug first.

When last seen the foursome was headed for the green but late radio reports from the golf course were to the effect that Richards was still playing the rough.

It wasn't a long ceremony, the opening for the golf course. But it was interesting, in spite of the rain that fell. By the time the first foursome was ready to tee off the rain had subsided and other golf fans came out.

The new course is now ready for play, and Manager Walter Hart is ready for the golfers. A fee of fifty cents is being charged those who have not taken out season tickets. These single admissions or season tickets can be procured from Mr. Hart at the club house. Thirteen holes are open for play and it is expected that the other five will be ready for the start of next season.

Will Raise Fund To Take Scouts To Pittsburgh

Lawrence County Boy Scouts

To Be Guests Of Pittsburgh Ball Club,

August 30

AMERICAN LEGION

SPONSOR OUTING

Members of the Perry S. Gaston post, American Legion, will set out Monday to raise money by popular subscription to take 100 Lawrence county Boy Scouts to Pittsburgh, where they will be the guests of the Pirates management at the baseball game next Friday between the Pirates and Cubs.

The invitation to attend the game was extended by the Pittsburgh management some time ago, and the assistance of the Perry S. Gaston post of the American Legion was asked in getting the boys to the game.

As the treasury of the post is somewhat depleted, due to the fact that it is near the end of the year, it was deemed advisable to raise funds for the outing by popular subscription. Small contributions will be asked for Monday by a committee who will visit merchants and business men and all contributions will be gratefully accepted. The task of raising the fund is in charge of Gordon Kline and Howard Welsh of the Legion's Boy Scout committee.

It is planned to charter two special cars on the Harmony line to take the boys to Pittsburgh. They will be properly chaperoned by Boy Scout and Legion officials, and an effort will be made to show them a good time.

HOOPER GUARDS CAREFULLY HIS CONFERENCE AIM

The tenor of some of these exuberant reports has been that Great Britain and the United States were on the verge of an important agreement which, at the proper time, would be shown down the throats of the other powers. That kind of business isn't conducive to international amity and co-operation, and Mr. Hoover has acted to correct it in the only method at hand—to let it be known that the reports of the reports enthusiastically sent out of London and Washington have been based upon fancy rather than upon fact.

Seeking Basis.

The hope and the expectation is that the basis for an Anglo-American agreement can be found before Premier MacDonald's contemplated trip to the United States next October, such an agreement to serve as the foundation for a five-powered conference in December or early in 1930.

From the experience gained at several abortive Geneva conferences, it has been learned that there is little use in trying to get a five-powered agreement when the two largest naval powers in the world, Great Britain and the United States, are wholly irreconcilable. It was British-American differences, vital and fundamental differences in principle, that caused the collapse of all Geneva efforts at reducing naval armament.

The Dawes-MacDonald negotiations in London are to determine whether those same vital differences can be reconciled. If so, another world naval conference is certain to result, something can be, if not, there is no use of calling one.

Mutual Concessions.

There have been mutual concessions in these London conversations, and a considerable amount of progress has been made. MacDonald has accepted the principle of American parity all down the line, ship for ship, and gun for gun, which was more than the British experts at Geneva were ever willing to do. Moreover, he has indicated that Britain can get along with less cruisers than her experts at Geneva contended for.

Dawes, on the other hand, is believed to have offered a material concession to Great Britain in the matter of small cruisers which the British insist are so vital to protect the empire's far flung trade routes.

May Compromise.

The present trend of the negotiations point to a compromise on the cruiser question—the only real serious controversy—whereby the United States will build up to approximate parity with the British in modern, 10,000-ton, 8-inch gun cruisers, leaving Britain preponderant in the small type which her experts contend are the most effective in the fleet.

Policing vessels, they call them. In any event, it is now considered certain that the 15 new cruisers which congress ordered laid down in the next three years, and which President Hoover suspended work on as a gesture of naval friendliness to Great Britain, will be built as directed. No way has been found to obviate this building program if the United States is to have anything even remotely approaching cruiser parity with the British.

NATIONAL AIR RACES STARTING AT CLEVELAND

ord will be broken. During the nine days of "sky races." Equally as important as the flying activities, however, will be the gigantic exposition of all types of aircraft which will be held in Cleveland's new $10,000,000 public auditorium.

Great Exhibition

This huge building covers 200,000 square feet of space and every inch of it will be jammed by the exhibits and booths of the various airplane companies. Approximately $3,000,000 will be represented by the planes, motors and accessories on display.

The race events are certain to be the ultimate in color and thrills. As noted pilots from virtually every section of the country are entered in at least one or more of them. According to Carl Egge, former general superintendent of the United States Air

Mail Service, who will act as referee for the races, more than 1,000 planes belonging to both contestants and spectators, have been given anchorage at the local airport. This number is expected to be considerably increased by the middle of the week when the most important races are run off.

The air meet, will be going full blast when the entrants in the Women's derby from California to Cleveland zoom down on the airport to the plaudits of the crowd. Many of the well known aviatrixes entered in the derby probably will compete in other events.

Plan Memorial

The close of the women's derby in all probability will be marked by memorial exercises of some sort for Marvel Crosson, one of the entrants, who crashed to her death in Arizona shortly after the outset of the race.

Other distance derbies, all of which will finish here, include the all-Ohio derby, the Canadian derby, the Rim of Ohio derby, the Miami-Beach to Cleveland derby, the Philadelphia to Cleveland derby, the Portland to Cleveland derby, the Oakland to Cleveland derby, and the featured non-stop Los Angeles to Cleveland derby.

Other special attractions will be glider contests, army and navy maneuvers, relay races, parachute jumps and balloon bursting contests.

Another spectacular feature, not entered on the schedule of events, will be the appearance over the race field of the Graf Zeppelin. Commander Eckener, who is now piloting the huge dirigible across the Pacific on the third leg of its globe-girdling flight, is expected to fly the huge ship over Cleveland as a gesture of friendliness to the aviation industry while the Graf is enroute from Los Angeles to Lakehurst on the fourth and final leg of its cruise.

centered in the nursery for the newly-born infants, the X-Ray room, and the operating rooms.

Centre of Interest

Two pieces of equipment which were received and installed yesterday morning received much attention from the visitors. They were the Hess incubators where tiny atoms of humanity can be placed and the spark of life fanned to a strong and glowing flame, or else burned out in a futile effort to survive.

There are no others like them in the city, and yet they might have escaped the attention of many because they are rather commonplace looking bits of machinery, resembling for all the world a metal basin with a lid attached.

There are two of these, placed in each of the nursery rooms. They are made of metal with a little rack inside in which the downy bed of cotton can be placed, and are thermostatically heated. Here the temperature is maintained constantly at a body heat. It is impossible for the temperature to go beyond 110 degrees, Fahrenheit, thus eliminating any danger of them scorching burns should their tiny hands or feet come in contact with the metal side. At the head is a cloth shield to prevent any draught from penetrating the warm interior.

Lined up around the wall in each of the rooms are tiny little beds, anxiously awaiting the future citizens of New Castle. They resemble dolls' beds and many a little human doll will grace them in the weeks to come.

The wards and rooms for the medical and surgical cases occupy the various other floors.

Operating Rooms

On the top floor are located the four operating rooms, with their special lighting features, so constructed that the nearest approach to artificial daylight is secured. These huge rooms are equipped with two different electrical circuits, so that in the event of the power being turned off for any reason they can be immediately connected with a different circuit by pushing a button.

The laundry and nurses home also came in for their share of attention. The nurses home is the gift of Mrs. David Jameson and her daughter, Mrs. William D. McCreery. Here are the accommodations provided for the resident and student nurses, in homelike surroundings.

No institution in the country has anything finer. Every facility has been provided by them to make life pleasant for the ones who will toil at the bedside of the patients, doing a great work. There are individual and double rooms, all finished and furnished alike. The walls are papered, and the furniture has been installed in the best of the very best.

Downstairs at the entrance to the home is a big reception room which has been handsomely furnished. There is another room adjoining, where more privacy can be had and where the nurses can visit their relatives and friends if they so desire.

In the basement is a huge storage room for their trunks and apparel. They will also find a laundry where they may launder small pieces of wearing apparel and a small kitchen where they can have fudge parties and the like.

Open Again Today

It would be impossible to enumerate all of the wonders that are contained in the two buildings. One must see them in person to appreciate them, and that is why this opportunity is being given the citizens of New Castle to inspect the hospital before it is thrown open for use. This afternoon and evening it is confidently expected that more than 20,000 people will again visit the institution.

The reception room at the entrance to the building was filled with beautiful baskets of flowers, gifts of grateful New Castle residents.

Members of the police department assisted the hospital officials and nurses in conducting people through the building and seeing that the crowds did not congregate and obstruct the progress of the flow of humanity through the institution. Their efforts were hardly needed, however, as it was a most orderly and dignified assemblage and they were eager to co-operate with President Fred L. Renz and the directors and officials of the institution in making the opening an auspicious event.

Filing stations are now selling hot dogs. But we'd better look out or absent-minded service men'll be filling the tank with sausages and putting the mustard in the crankcase—The Butte Daily Post.

BUREAU OF MOTOR VEHICLES ANSWERS MOTORISTS' QUERIES

FOR OWNERS AND DRIVERS

Thousands of motorists are receiving daily the Bureau of Motor Vehicles' answers to their queries. The Motor Code, which is the basis of the Motor Vehicle Act, is a comprehensive code of laws governing the operation of motor vehicles. It is the duty of every motorist to know the Motor Code, and to obey its provisions. The Bureau of Motor Vehicles is the authority on the Motor Code, and it is its duty to answer the queries of motorists. The following are some of the questions and answers received by the Bureau:

Q. Is there no provision in the Motor Code restricting fire apparatus, ambulances and similar vehicles to a reasonable rate of speed. It seems to me that fires are not less numerous now, relatively speaking, than when apparatus was horse-drawn, despite the fact that drivers of pumpers and chemical wagons drive through our streets at a frightful pace. In our city, too, they drive just as fast going back to their stations as they do to the fire.

A. The Motor Code says that its speed limitations shall not apply to vehicles operated by police, fire-fighters and hospital attendants, when operated with due regard for safety, but, it adds, "the exemption shall not be construed as authorizing reckless driving."

Q. In some cities motor car operators are permitted to pass to the left of a safety isle; in others they must pass the isle on the right. Is this a matter for local regulation? If so, how am I to know what to do?

A. Municipal authorities may regulate passing of safety isles. They are required, however, to place legible signs at the beginning of these isles—signs visible day and night. The Motor Code provides, incidentally, that local authorities erect signs at intersections and other places at which regulations are in force contrary to those with which the average motorist is familiar.

Q. I have written the Bureau of Motor Vehicles recently, using my own letterhead, and have failed to receive a reply. Can you explain this carelessness?

A. Very easily. Your letter head bears the name of your garage, and your own name, but the name of the city is missing. If you note this reply in published "Questions and Answers" and will write again, naming your own or city, we shall be glad to answer your query.

Q. Was the very first No. 1 automobile license tag given to the governor of Pennsylvania?

A. No. The original tag No. 1, issued for 1906, was issued to the Hon. Webster G. Gregg, of Doylestown, author of the first automobile registration bill. Mr. Gregg did not possess an automobile and he arranged that the tag be transferred to the Hon. Louis Bailett of Philadelphia, then deputy secretary of the commonwealth. At that time the commonwealth itself did not own any motor car or trucks.

Q. Is it true that mechanics employed on airplane work must be licensed by the state? What are the requirements for such license?

A. Airplane mechanics must be equipped through experience to do capable work. No "hands" are permitted to experiment with motors or ships. For complete information address R. M. Ginter, secretary of the Aeronautics Commission, Harrisburg.

Q. Is there any rule or law forbidding motorists to tow around a funeral procession? Recently I came upon a line of cars moving at about 30 miles per hour. At opportune times I drove ahead of one or two machines until finally I realized I was driving in the center of a funeral procession. Notwithstanding the "bawling out" I received from each driver as I passed his car I continued to work ahead and eventually cleared the line of vehicles. Was this against the law?

A. The Motor Code contains no regulations relating to funerals. In certain cities and boroughs, however, local ordinances have been passed

Q. In our town residents along Main street, which is part of a state highway, are annoyed by dust clouds occasioned by the dropping of earth from the trucks of a contractor building a large school. Is there no remedy?

A. The Motor Code declares that no vehicle shall be driven or moved on any highway unless such vehicle is so constructed or loaded as to prevent its contents from dropping, sitting, leaking or otherwise escaping. "Highway," under the law, is "every way or place, of whatever nature, open to the use of the public as a matter of right for purposes of vehicular travel." It is not, as so many people think, merely a road in the open country. It is a street, alley, lane, avenue, or road—except those owned by individuals, colleges or other institutions.

Three Youngsters Reported Missing

Believe Youths Tired of Home

Take Camp Supplies

International News Service
CARNEGIE, Pa., Aug. 24.—County and state police officers today joined the search for three boys between the ages of 12 and 15 who gathered a supply of camping equipment and ran away from their homes. They disappeared Thursday and efforts of Carnegie police and their fathers to locate them have proved vain.

The boys are Darrell Arnold, 12; Arthur Lewis, 13; and Robert Treat, 15. It is believed they tired of their home town and are in search of adventure and travel. They raided drug banks and ice boxes in their home before starting.

Aged Titusville Man Recalls Hardships In Drilling First Well

Samuel B. Smith, 86, Titusville, Helped Drill First Oil Well In World
Drake Well Started Universe; Had Hard Time In Getting Through Rocks

(International News Service) TITUSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 24.—Seventy-two years ago next Tuesday Samuel B. Smith, who celebrated his 86th birthday three weeks ago, changed by a drilling experiment, what was known as Drake's folly to the opening of the field producing the finest natural oil in the world. Discovery of oil in this town was the first in the world. It was then and is still known as Pennsylvania grade crude oil. The discoverer lives but two miles away from the scene of his epochal achievement.

In an interview today Mr. Smith recalled vividly the details of the event. "Colonel Edwin L. Drake who promoted the drilling of the first oil well, engaged my father and me to do the drilling," he reminisced. "We were blacksmiths, but had occasionally drilled artesian wells for salt water. We spent several months trying to find a way to get down to the rock. Finally at my father's request, Colonel Drake went to Erie—it was a long trip in those days—to get five lengths of six-inch pipe, each section ten feet long. While he was gone we built a blacksmith's shop alongside the well, and we made the rigging and tools for the drilling."

On Gushers Furth. We sank four lengths of the new pipe, put a wooden conductor on top of the last length and at a 45-foot depth we struck rock. We cleaned this out and began drilling. "On the sixth day, when we had gone down 69 feet, I happened to look down the hole. You can imagine my thrill when I saw a yellow foam bubbling up. It was oil. In another few days we had pumps working and the first oil well in the world was producing."

Smith works ten hours a day on the acre garden adjoining his home. His hobby is his health. He eats only green vegetables from his own garden, does not eat desserts, candies or sweets of any kind, and never uses tea, coffee or other stimulants, except for a short time when he was in the army during the Civil war.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Back in the days when the Scotch shepherd kissed their families goodbye every spring and then went out into the hills with their flocks, there weren't many games. Football was yet to come, and tennis was played with a tin sword.

It got lonesome out on the hills for those old Scotch shepherds and they would amuse themselves by pushing round stones along with a crooked stick, into a small hole. The lad who invented the game was a bit barmy in the attic and was known as a goof, and every time he played it, they said he was playing that "goof game" again.

Gradually they dropped the word game and it became known as goof, but very shortly the royalty took it up and they had to have some better name for it. Hence the name golf.

If those Scotch shepherds could have been out at the new municipal golf course Friday afternoon they might have wondered why the name was changed for it was the sort of weather that only golf goots can enjoy.

Being a member of the lodge, I was out there and between drops the new course was opened, dedicated, turned over, or what would you suggest. An interesting afternoon and also a wet one.

Jimmy Moorhead was out there taking motion pictures and there were several shots I hope he didn't miss. For instance, that first drive of the mayor. Or that sliced drive of Howard Richards. Or that first four-some slugging down the fairway.

Offutt, Shira, Tully and H. B. Richards made up the first foursome. I think Offutt and Tully made the first hole in one over par. Shira in two over par and I think Richards made it in 27 minutes.

Chief Horner has said that he does not expect to play on the new course. The chief is rather rotund and has some difficulty in getting the ball away from the tee. If he places it where he can see it he can't hit it, and if he places where he can hit it, he can't see it.

Somebody asked him why he didn't diet, but he replied that he thought the color of the ball as all right without changing it.

Saw two licks yesterday that drew a smile. A little boy and a little girl, about four years of age each. Sitting in a doorway on Mercer street eating ice cream cones, with the ice cream smeared over their faces. That's when ice cream tastes good.

Famous last lines. "I know this is all right, for the fellow who made it used to work in a distillery in Austria."

Today finishes a real week around this newspaper. Openings galore, and dedications along with it. Today the Jordan Game Farm is formally opened and bigger and better ring necks will be the slogan. Looney McClung, who takes your taxes and makes you like it has worked out a program for the game farm dedication that will keep the boys interested and the roast or is guaranteed to make up for any deficiencies in the speeches.

Up until last night I had always imagined that an ox was something different than an ordinary cow. Thought maybe that where the cow wore a horn, the ox wore a saxophone or an oboe. It seems now that an ox is merely a steer that has gone to work, all of which is very interesting if true.

To the boys with false teeth the truth must be told. There will be no tick soup. Nothing but roast ox, buns, pickles and mustard.

Greensburg Coal Firm Head Held

Twenty-Three Separate Charges Placed Against Prominent Greensburg

IS ALLEGED TO BE EMBEZZLER

(International News Service) GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 24.—

Clyde B. Moore, president of the Merchants & Farmers National bank of this city, and former president of the Citizens Ice & Coal company here was ordered held for criminal court after a hearing before Alderman Bert Faust. Twenty-three separate informations are charged against him for irregularities in conducting the affairs of the coal company.

According to the prosecutor, William F. Lord, stockholder of the company, who was authorized by the directors to bring charges, the 23 informations represent three distinct charges. These are embezzlement and fraudulent conversion, keeping fraudulent accounts and destroying and mutilating books of the company.

Ball for Moore has not been fixed but it is indicated it will be $10,000. At the hearing Moore was represented by the law firm of Smith, Best & Horn, while Lord had secured Crowell & Whitehead.

Testimony of several witnesses, including R. A. Brandon, cashier, and Fred Morrow, bookkeeper, of the Merchants & Farmers bank, and Lord, showed that Moore appropriated at least $4,000 of the ice company's money for his own personal bank account while making transactions in behalf of the company.

Directors of the Merchants & Farmers bank, because of rumors about Moore, today issued a statement declaring criminal actions, although involving bank officials, have no official connection with the condition of the bank. The statement said the books have been audited this week and found in excellent condition.

R. A. Brandon, one of those who testified against Moore, is a brother of Magistrate A. D. Brandon of Pittsburgh morals court.

Announces Women To Wear Longer Skirts

Skirts For Women In Coming Seasons To Be Four To Five Inches Longer

Bare-Leg Fad Is Rapidly Dying Out; Tweeds Will Be Fashionable Again

By FLORENCE Y. WILSON
International News Service Special Correspondent
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Women may look for numerous radical changes in the coming seasons, both for indoor and outdoor wear, according to Alexander MacLachlan, president of the McCrory company.
MacLachlan, with his wife, daughter and three grandchildren are here today, having just returned from a business and pleasure tour of European offices of the merchantile stores corporation, and of the most noted style-makers of London, Paris, Berlin and Brussels. He says he looked for the biggest departures in store business the United States has ever known during the coming twelve months.
Perhaps one of the most startling "return styles" of the coming seasons, according to Mr. MacLachlan, will be the reappearance of the knit blouse, which hasn't been the vogue for some time. He looks for "quite a craze" in this line. It will be greatly of the sweater type but a bit more tailored.
Here are a few other style hints which this veteran middle western department store head brought back with him:
Hats will continue small—not shown—for skirts are to be from four to five inches longer.
Curves meaning greater plumpness are more and more "in trend."
All suits and gowns are to have more "dressmaker touches." The strictly mode trend is very much away from the rigid tailored effect.
Tweed is very, very fashionable.

especially in ensembles, and of course, the long, bouffant top place.
Flat pumps, with high heels that are much studded with rainbow hued stones for evening wear are all the rage. There are few buckle shoes.
Evening bags of thin beads of fantastic pattern are now and will be all the go.
Fur bare legs are seen abroad, and the flare here for that sort of thing is dying out. Stocking favorites are nude and gray.
Hair is still bobbed abroad and will stay that way.
There will be furs and furs and furs for everything.
And, oh, yes, many foreign shops are showing the dullest of "cocktail napkins." Of course, as was remarked, that shouldn't interest the United States. You set the glasses on them.

FORD THROUGH IF BOOZE EVER FLOWS AGAIN

Wouldn't Try To Manufacture
Automobiles In Wet
Country

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Henry Ford is through with manufacturing liquor ever comes back to the United States.
Writing in the September issue of The Pictorial Review, the motor car manufacturer said:

"I would not be bothered with the problem of handing over 200,000 men and trying to pay them wages which the saloons would take away from them. I wouldn't be interested in putting automobiles into the hands of a generation soggy with drink."

Among the faults he found with liquor were:
There were only two or three effective work days a week when booze was in control.
Industry had to have a 10 or 12-hour day or a six and seven day week.

Gasoline and booze don't mix. He declared prohibition now was effective with 95 per cent of our population.

Says Hours Shortened
"When men drank two or three days a week, industry had to have a 10 or 12-hour day and a six or seven-day week," Ford writes. "With sobriety, the working man can have an eight-hour day and a five-day week with the same or greater pay."

"If booze were around I wouldn't have accurate workmen, and without accurate workmen I could not get the necessary precision in my work, even with machinery, because more people are making the machinery than make the car itself."

Began at Home
Ford says "prohibition began at home with women who wanted better home conditions," and he points out that if women uphold the law in their homes we need bother very little about other places where the law is violated—they will automatically disappear.

The motor car magnate denies that prohibition was "forced" on the country. He adds that "personal liberty is so much increased by the addition that it is childish wilfulness to talk about infringement of nation's emancipation from alcoholic rights."

The Story Of The World War
96—Enlarging The Army

I 1916, PRESIDENT WILSON IN HIS ANNUAL MESSAGE TO CONGRESS, RECOMMENDED THAT THE REGULAR ARMY BE INCREASED TO 142,000 MEN. HE FURTHER PROPOSED THE CREATION OF A "CONTINENTAL ARMY" OF 400,000, TO BE CALLED INTO SERVICE IN "CLASSES" OF 34,000. EACH CLASS AFTER TWO MONTHS' TRAINING WAS TO PASS INTO A RESERVE CLASS FOR THREE YEARS.

THE CONTINENTAL ARMY PLAN ENCOUNTERED MUCH OPPOSITION BECAUSE OF ITS COMPULSORY MILITARY SERVICE FEATURE. IN ITS PLACE CONGRESS IN 1916 PASSED THE SO-CALLED HAY BILL, WHICH AUTHORIZED A REGULAR ARMY OF 186,000 MEN (PEACE STRENGTH) AND A NATIONAL GUARD OF 424,800.

IT PROVIDED FOR MILITARY TRAINING COURSES IN CAMPS AND COLLEGES, BY WHICH YOUNG MEN FROM CIVIL LIFE COULD EARN COMMISSIONS IN AN OFFICER'S RESERVE CORPS. ALSO CREATED BY THE ACT, THE NATIONAL GUARD, WITH ITS RESERVE, COULD BE DRAFTED INTO THE FEDERAL SERVICE BY THE PRESIDENT IN TIME OF A NATIONAL EMERGENCY.

PRESIDENT WILSON ACCEPTED THE HAY BILL WHEN HE SAW THAT HIS OWN MEASURE WOULD BE REJECTED. LINDLEY M. GARRISON, THE ABLE SECRETARY OF WAR, WHO HAD CHAMPIONED THE CONTINENTAL ARMY PLAN, FELT HE HAD BEEN DESERTEED BY THE PRESIDENT, AND RETIRED FROM THE CABINET.

Peters And Tobias End Heavy Training Today

Flyweights To Clash Monday Night At Bowl

Hebrew Has Fought Davies And Wolgast; Peters Recently Outpointed Speedy Dado, Filipino, In California; Sammy Harris Takes Van Hook's Place Against Jack Hernandez; Romeo Meets Porto; Two Four Round Action Bouts Arranged.

By ED. FRITZ
Fistic fandom, always hungry for some choice dish is eagerly awaiting Monday night when a pugilistic meal, believed to be somewhat above the ordinary is to be served at Jolly Bowl. Embellished on the pugilistic menu are the names of Phil Tobias, New York City and Ernie Peters, Chicago. They're a brace of flyweights who require practically no introduction and no doubt the bowl will be filled roof high when the bell rings for their ten round battle. The balance of the card will be composed of featherweights, junior lightweights, lightweights and last but not least those entertainin' light-heavies, Elmo the Mighty and Tom Farrow. Indications point to speed, class, punch and a couple thousand satisfied customers.

It will be the first appearance of Tobias who is one of the best Hebrew-American fighters in the United States. Peters, an Indian has appeared in the Jolly Bowl not once but several times. Among Tobias' most important battles is one with Willie Davies and three with Midget Wolgast. He held the marvel of Cherokee to an eight round draw at Atlantic City and after being outmaneuvered by Wolgast came back with a decision over Wolgast in New York. Peters boxed Davies and others here. Some fans believe he should have at least had a decision of a draw with Davies. He easily beat Carpenter. Recently he beat Blas Rodriguez and Speedy Dado in California. That's going some!

Arrive Here Tomorrow
Both fighters have been ordered to report here early tomorrow morning. Tobias will arrive from New York City. Peters will come from Chicago. They will register at the Leslie Hotel and arrangements have been made for them to loosen up tomorrow afternoon at Jimmie Dime's gymnasium. As they figure the Monday night fight one of the most important in their career, both requested that they be allowed to work out when their opponent was not within seeing distance. Tobias and Peters well know that every move would be watched carefully and scouts from the followers of each fighter will be banned.

The general public however, cannot meet the fighters at the hotel or gymnasium. No doubt Tobias will have a large following from this city, Youngstown and other nearby towns. Peters has already made his following here because he has always battled earnestly and conscientiously. Both are ethical and clean and while there is considerable rivalry between the flyweights, neither is of the type that seeks undue advantage. They are scheduled to weigh in at 114 pounds. Peters has been boxing at 115 and the removal of the pound may have a tendency to send Tobias stronger than the Indian into the ring.

Promoters To Be Here
It is understood that promoters of nearby cities will be here to watch this pair as they have been the other fighters who have fought here. As soon as boxers make good here they receive tempting offers. In fact it is common report and one which is verified that the fighters who appear

Westminster Grid Camp To Be Opened Monday September 2

Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald Issues Call For 40 Players, Coach And Managers

First Game For Blue And White To Be With Fordham In New York City

Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald of Westminster College fired the first shot of the 1929 football campaign yesterday when letters were sent to 40 players and two student managers announcing the opening of the football training camp September 2.

Inasmuch as the first game is scheduled September 28 with Fordham University at New York, Coach "Dike" Beede will have almost a month to whip his charges into shape. A glance at the experienced men left from last year's team, which tied Duquesne for the conference championship, would indicate that Beede will need every minute of the time.

McQuiston, quarterback; Havrilla, fullback, and Lauder, halfback, were all lost by graduation. Announcement made this week at Westminster that the team will be made up of the following: Fredrick Palmer, another halfback on last year's team, has been admitted to the U. S. Military Academy means that only Dible and Hall are left among the lettermen who have played in the backfield.

Will Miss Furno
The loss of Furno, sturdy tackle, also presents a problem in the line. Armour, Fisher and Dishong among last year's substitutes will fight out with freshmen competitors for this position. Frack, Michaels, Paul Campbell, Hadden are backfield substitutes who will compete with incoming freshmen for backfield positions.

Those requested to report for training camp September 2 include 20 regulars and substitutes from last year's squad. These men are: Captain Russell Boone, Turtle Creek; Joseph Dombrowski, Elizabeth; Adrian Dible, Verona; John Hall, Youngstown, O.; Norman Holzapfel, Blairsville; George Cebula, Campbell, O.; Paul Campbell, Pittsburgh; William Armour, Sharon; Harry Michaels, Turtle Creek; Homer Dishong, Johnstown; Gerry Sweet, Erie; Joseph Pipoly, Youngstown, O.; Richard Puller, Erie; William Frack, Oakmont; Emmett Tweedy, Turtle Creek; Paul Keenan, Youngstown; Harry Brown, Erie; Lock Haven; Chester Campbell, Ford City; Scott Hadden, Meadville; Marsh Fisher, Boardman, O. Student Managers George Cosmos, Union City, N. J., and Leon Hildebrand, Canton, O., have also been requested to report.

Twenty freshmen will also be included in the group of players who will report for camp on Labor Day. While little is known of the possibilities of this new group, it is hoped that there will be enough material to fill the positions vacated by men lost by graduation or transfer. Training table will, as usual, be held at the College Inn.

Palmer Is Now At West Point

PALMER'S HALF

Word was received here yesterday that Frederick Palmer, nephew of former Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, and star halfback on last year's Westminster grid team, has successfully passed his entrance examinations and is a member of the fourth company in the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Added to the fact that Coach "Dike" Beede lost Havrilla, McQuiston and Lauder, three veteran backs, by graduation, this latest development presents quite a problem to the Titan coach. But two backs of any experience, Dibble and Hall, remain. Palmer, a freshman last year, developed into one of the shiftiest backs on the U. S. team. In the last five games of the season he gained more than 600 yards from scrimmage. While he will be missed, coaches and officials at Westminster are proud of Palmer and the honor he has received by his appointment. He will report for the Army grid team next month.

"The St. Louis Blues"

Bill McKechnie

From the way the St. Louis Cardinals boss managers some would almost swear that the outfit is run by one of those "typical efficiency experts" have prevented business from becoming too prosperous ever since the war. Good old squire Bill McKechnie, fired by the St. Louis management, after leading the team to the National League pennant last year, has been recalled and Billy Southworth exiled to Rochester. "Hair Trigger Sam" Breadon, a fine old sport, constitutes the principal part of the brains back of the Cards. He canned McKechnie last year when the team flopped to the Yanks in the World's Series. Bob O'Farrell got the air for about the same reason, the previous season. Before him, the great Rogers Hornsby had been canned after copping the 1926 World's Series! The way they shuffle those managerial cards might have been the in-

Hack Wilson Is Now Tied With Ruth And Klein

Pugnacious Chicago Cubs Outfielder Socks Out Homer Number 33

REAL RACE FOR CIRCUIT HONORS

By HENRY McLEMORE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 24.—This, according to no less an authority than George Herman Ruth, is a "left-handed" baseball year.

Meaning that things are going pretty—wrong.
Interviewed today Mr. Ruth would not doubt go even further and designate 1929 as "two left-handed years," for along with his various ailments, worry over next year's contract and the general depression of his beloved Yankees, Mr. Ruth now has another fret.

This time in the form of Hack (one-round) Wilson, most pugnacious of the Chicago Cubs.
Wilson ties Babe.

For no sooner had the Babe overtaken Chuck Klein of the Phillies in the little matter of home runs than along comes Mack with his thirty-third of the season, tying the whole affair into a neat bow-knot and furnishing Mr. Ruth with another rival to be overcome.

Wilson's tying blow came as the Cubs whipped the Phillies 6 to 1. Hornsby and Taylor also hit for the circuit. The win increased the Cubs lead over second-place Pittsburgh another half notch.

Behind the seven-hit flinging of Bob Smith the Braves trounced the Cubs 5 to 2 and evened the series at 1-1. Jess Haines caused no little excitement by hitting a homer.

New York and Pittsburgh and Brooklyn and Cincinnati will play double-headers today to make up for the rainy day postponement of yesterday.

Macks-Tanks Beaten.
New York and Philadelphia continue to be easy pickings for the weaker clubs around the American circuit. New York suffered its second successive shut-out yesterday when Blaeholder limited them to five hits while his team-mates rapped Pennock and Moore for five runs.

Philadelphia did little better, dropping a 3 to 1 decision to the White Sox. It was the Athletics' fourth straight set-back and their sixth defeat in their last seven games. It marked their longest losing streak of the year. McKain, recruit hurler, spiked the Mack's artillery, allowing but five hits.

San Jones and Earl Whitehill engaged in a pitching duel and though Whitehill allowed but four safeties Detroit lost, 1 to 0.

Denny MacFayden hurled the Red Sox to an 8 to 5 win over the Indians. The defeat dropped Cleveland to fourth place. St. Louis moving into the show position. Rothrock made four hits in five trips to the plate.

Football Season Is Just Around Corner

New Castle High School Grid-ners Will Encamp Monday For Training

Westminster College Will Open Grid Camp On Monday September 2.

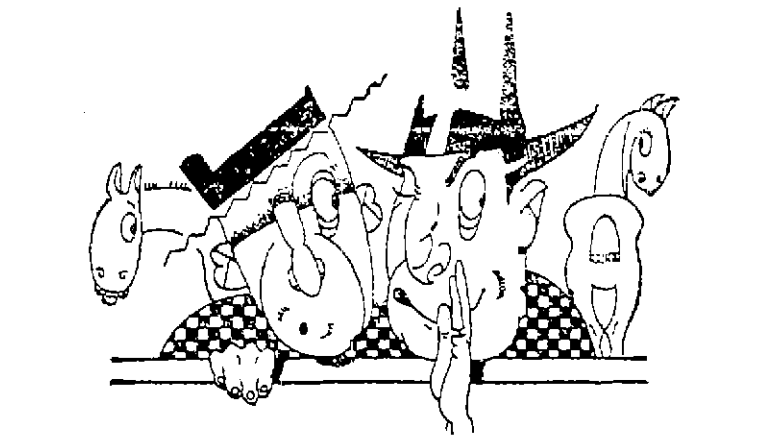

By "BUGS" WALTHER
The 1929 football season is just around the corner. New Castle high school football team will go to their annual training camp at Muddy Creek Falls on Monday, Aug. 26. Westminster College will send the grid aspirants to training quarters one week later.
It doesn't seem that the year has gone so fast, and that it is time once again to sit and watch the boys romp the greensward in quest of victory in grueling struggles.

On Saturday, Sept. 21, the New Castle high team will take the field against Grove City high. The game is scheduled for the Ben Franklin high stadium.

Fordham First
Westminster College will romp into action in the big town of "Noo Yawk" with Fordham the hosts, one week later, or on September 28. The blue and white team is biting off a big bite in the first game of the year.

Coach Dyke Beede figures to give the boys a good stiff test in the first encounter to see just what he has to work with.
The United Presbyterians are well fixed this year as regards material and veterans, and it would not be surprising to the writer if the Beede coached eleven knocks the idling off some of the best in the tri-state district this year.

Locals Ready for Camp
Last night at Franklin high stadium the New Castle boys were given

Helen Wills To Have Easy Time In Title Match

Miss Helen Wills To Play Mrs. Phoebe Watson Of England For Title Today

NO COMPARISON IN ABILITY

By MALCOLM ROY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Rather than a thrilling final round coming as a stirring climax to a week of spectacular play, the final of the Women's National Lawn Tennis singles here today between Helen Wills, of California, international champion and Mrs. Phoebe Watson, of England, comes as close to being an anti-climax as anything in the world of sports can be.

The only occurrence which could prevent the final battle for the 42nd annual women's championship from being a dismal failure would be a cataclysm which would see Queen Helen defeated by the English star, such a happening is about as possible or as probable as is the prospect of a rowboat's beating the Queen's time across the Atlantic. From the manner in which Queen Helen has disposed of all opposition in five days' play there is little likelihood of Mrs. Watson scoring more than a game or two against the Queen, if indeed she is able to do that.

Helen's play from Monday through Friday is one of the most amazing chapters in lawn tennis history. No player whose name appears in the annals of the modern game has ever gone through to the final round with a record of sixty victories and with only two games scored by her opponents. So remarkable has been the play of Queen Helen that she has won almost as many games as her opponents have scored points.

Order British Ships To Quell Rioting In Jerusalem, Report

(International News Service) LONDON, Aug. 24.—British warships have been ordered to Palestine as a result of the violent and fatal rioting between Moslems and Jews at Jerusalem. It was learned at the admiralty this afternoon.

At least 12 are dead and more than 100 wounded as a result of fighting at the "wailing wall" and elsewhere in Jerusalem.

At the request of the British high commissioner in Palestine the British battleship Barham and the cruiser Sussex were ordered to leave Malta during the day.

The number of dead bodies being found in weed patches over the country would seem to add to the numerous reasons why weeds should be cut.—The Salem Journal.

Phalanx Upsets Post Office, 8-7

Lindy Bruce Reaches First On Error, Giving Phalanx Winning Marker

The Phalanx team of the "Y" kept their slate clean in the New Castle baseball league last night at the Lehigh field in a sizzling battle with the strong Post Office team. The final score was 8 to 7. The game was played on a very muddy field.

The game was nip and tuck all the way. The score was 7 to 4 in favor of the Post Office as the Phalanx went to bat in the final half of the seventh, and before three outs could be recorded the Post Office blew up and four Phalanx players crossed the plate. Bruce hit to Pitcher Davis in the seventh with a Phalanx man on third with the winning run. Davis fielded the ball and tossed to Cliff Roberts, who was covering first, but Cliff was day-dreaming and the ball went past him and the game was over.

The Mail Carriers outfit the Phalanx 12 to 11. Bruce had the longest hit, a triple, while McGrath and Miles had doubles.

SORDS POINTS

Johnny Frederick Comes Through

Just a young fellow trying to get along in the big leagues, is the way baseball followers referred to Johnny Frederick, Brooklyn outfielder, at the beginning of the season. Johnny seemed to have a hard time getting the feel of the big time parks. But when Nick Cutler was released in the middle of May, and the center field job handed over to Frederick, the rookie experienced a sudden reversal in form. His play improved with each day until now he is generally talked of as "the best first year man in the National League."

And it's just about right. He struck a great stride both at bat and in the field and has held on to it. He is sporting a batting average around the .325 mark at the present, and shows promise of adding to that before the end of the season.

Thanks to Brooklyn's short right field fence, Frederick has something like 20 home runs to his credit, which is more than any other Dodger can boast. He leads the league in two-baggers, with over forty, which proves that he can hit between the outfielders as well as over their heads.

There's no fault to be found with his fielding. At first he was weak on grounders and has a few errors chalked up against him trying to stop the hoppers. But he's as dependable in that department now as he is in chasing flies.

With all of his success and in spite of the fact that he is being boosted to the skies for his great work, Johnny has retained the same, calm, and cool. If anything, the praise he has received has spurred him on to greater deeds.

Junior lightweight but their friends say they like to fight and are game to the backbone. This being the case, the fans can expect gloves to fly as soon as the bell rings at nine o'clock. Daylight Savings Time.

ADDISON, Pa., Aug. 24.—Town and county officials had not yet arrested three bandits today who held up the First National bank and escaped with $1,600 in cash. Miss Maude Dean, assistant cashier, was alone in the bank when one of the bandits pointed a revolver at her and demanded the money.

When the robber had scooped up all the cash in sight he ran to a green sedan, waiting with two companions in front, and the trio sped away in the direction of Uniontown, 25 miles west of here. The machine was observed to pass through Somerset, a small town four miles away.

If they are going to censor all false advertising, the gals can save a lot on rouge.

There will be two comers in the first four rounder. They are Eddie Flick of Oil City and Young Hardy of Beaver Falls. They will weigh not over 133 pounds. Flick has not fought professionally. Hardy has had one or two bouts. Neither is a scientist.

Ever since Tom Farrow and Elmo the Mighty boxed a four rounder at Oil City they have eyed each other from one eye as they pass. Recently Elmo added fuel to the flames by handing Warren Farrow a shellacking at the bowl. This did not set well with brother Tom who had an easy customer in "Hammer" Sledge the vanishing Butler colored light-heavyweight. Tom believes that he can knock out Elmo. The mighty one believes that he can stow Tom away.

Some of the boys acquainted with Elmo have requested him to not wear his bathrobe. They point out that he has only won one fight since the fans presented him with the bathrobe. At the time of presentation some of them feared it would prove a jinx and now they are convinced of it. Probabilities are that Elmo who once was known as Elmo the Mighty, bearded boy of the Jolly rustic circus will crawl through the ropes shrouded with a towel.

TORONTO GIRL FINISHES SECOND

(International News Service) TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Martha Norelius had further clinched her title of "The American Mermaid" today. Taking the lead soon after the start in her first major professional appearance the New York girl swam to the finish line in the $10,000 Wrigley Marathon here yesterday in 5:24:23, a new mark for the event.

Second place went to Ruth Tower, titan-haired local favorite, who fought every stroke of the way to wrest the lead from the former Olympic champion. Miss Tower trailed the winner by some 300 yards at the finish but for a time she threatened the leading New Yorker's lead when she pushed to within ripples of Miss Norelius.

Mrs. Evelyn Armstrong of Detroit came third with Miss Loan Riley of Kearsburg, N. J., close behind and Miss Ethel Herli, winner of the 152 marathon a hundred yards behind. This group trailed the winner by a mile. Miss Dorothy Widmer of Seattle placed sixth.

Forty-five swimmers started in the race but boats were busy all along the course picking up the fatigued athletes. Miss Vivian Welsh of Girard, O., was the victim of a large Lamprey eel which attached itself to the flesh of her side about a mile from the start. The Ohio girl was exhausted by her fight to free herself and was taken from the water at the mile and a half mark suffering from cold and cramps.

Fair People Plan For Evening Show

Have Made Special Provision
For Special Evening Meals
To Be Served

It was stated today by a member of the board of directors of the New Castle Fair association that special efforts have been made to have ample, clean and good eating places at the fair grounds during the coming week when the annual New Castle fair is in progress. It was stated that there will be more and better facilities for securing a meal or lunch at the New Castle fair grounds than at any of the fairs that have been held in this section of the country during the present year. And to make it more convenient for those fair goers who plan to attend the night fair on Wednesday and Thursday evenings arrangements have been made with the eating places to put on a special meal at reasonable prices on those evenings. There is every indication that the New Castle Fair association, weather permitting will have the most successful fair this year.

Market Today Profit-Taking

Heavy Profit Taking Causes Stock Market To Be Very Irregular
Today

By W. S. COUSINS
I. N. S. Financial Editor.
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Heavy profit taking caused irregularity to develop at the close of the stock market today after a number of issues had attained new high records during earlier trading in the short session. United States Steel, which had recorded a new all-time top of 260½, slipped back to 258½, a net decline of 1½ points for the day. Bethlehem Steel, which also had made a new high of 140½, dropped back to 139 at the close which was fractionally lower than last night's final price for the stock. Stocks showing a stronger tendency today included Republic Iron and Steel, Pacific Gas, American Tel and Tel, International Tel and Tel, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Union Carbide, American Can, Western Union, Crucible Steel and Underwood-Elliott-Fisher.

Issues showing weakness at the close included Westinghouse Electric, Radio Corporation, Du Pont, Packard and New York Central. Copper trading was active on reports of a probable upturn in the price of the metal which is now holding at 19 cents. Substantial gains were recorded by Anaconda, American Smelting and Kennicott. Sales of stocks today aggregated 2,124,100 compared with 2,227,200 last Saturday.

Declines Shown
Other stocks in which heavy selling caused declines were Westinghouse which slipped back to 285 1-4, a decline of 3 3-4; Radio Corporation 92 3-4, off 2 1-4; Woolworth 98 5-8, down 3-4; Gold Dust 60 1-2, off 1 1-2; Du Pont 218, a decline of 4 points; Warner Brothers 60 1-8, off 1 1-8 and Fox Film 94, off a point. Vigorous buying in the coppers, strengthened by a belief that the price of metals would shortly be advanced, resulted in gains throughout this group. Anaconda gained 2 1-8 to 124 1-8, American Smelting moved up 1 1-8 to 117 3-8 and Kennicott advanced 1 1-8 to 89. Utilities were in good demand. Pacific Gas and Southern California Edison featured this class by attaining new highs. Others in this group to show gains were American Foreign Power and Consolidated Gas. Ralls were irregular. Atchinson eased off 3 1-4 to 273 3-4. Pennsylvania declined 1-4 to 99 and New York Central dropped 1-4 to 240 5-4. Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, on the other hand, gained 1 3-8 to 41. Motors and oils displayed a tendency to weaken in the face of strength elsewhere in the list. Chrysler was off 1 3-8 to 72 1-2 and Packard down a point at 152. General Motors was fractionally lower at 73 1-2. In the oil standard New York fell back 5-8 to 45 3-4 and Standard of New Jersey dropped a point to 71 3-4.

COLORED GIRL IS MISSING FROM HOME

Mrs. Louise Callaway of 1401½ Mahoning avenue, has asked the assistance of the police in an effort to locate her adopted daughter, Anna May Callaway, aged 16, who left her home August 12 and has not been seen since. When she left she was to go to a clinic at the Shenango Valley hospital. She is described as being colored, five feet tall, weighing about 110 pounds and wearing a red dress, tan stockings, black oxford shoes and having short hair. Americans have no free theatre, but there's the radio, and there's no charge for watching steam shovels.

Compatriots In Golf Tournament Friday Afternoon

New Castle And Pittsburgh
Share Honors; Marked
First Affair

Rain held off long enough Friday afternoon to make the first annual New Castle field club golf tournament of the Sons of the American Revolution of New Castle, Butler, Pittsburgh and other chapters, a real success. In attendance were members of the S. A. R. from distant and surrounding places. Pittsburgh had eleven golfers here for the day and hours were shared evenly between New Castle and the Steel city organization. Ladies of the members also attended and enjoyed golf during the afternoon. Following the rounds of play, dinner was served in the clubhouse, following which the time was spent informally. Out-of-town playing on the local course for the first time termed it one of the best ever and were more than enthused when another inter-chapter match was announced for next year.

Members of the local committee who planned the tourney consisted of Charles H. Young, Thomas H. Hartman, D. H. Long, W. J. Caldwell and Attorney Homer C. Drake, chairman. Herb D. McGoun is president of the New Castle chapter.

Huge X-Ray Machine Center Of Interest To Hospital Visitors

New Jameson Memorial Hospital Is Equipped With Magnificent Machine

One Of Two In Western Pennsylvania—Donated By Local Family

Traveling through the new Jameson Memorial hospital yesterday afternoon with the hundreds of visitors who thronged the institution, one could not but gaze with wonder and awe at one particular piece of apparatus, which seemed to be the center of attraction. This was the huge X-Ray machine, which with accompanying equipment, occupies a suite of rooms on the fifth floor.

All the officials, directors, nurses and those connected with the hospital in any capacity feel justly proud of this delicate machine, because it represents the last word in X-Ray equipment.

It is a Victor, shock-proof, X-Ray unit, combining all the features of an X-Ray machine with fluoroscope. This latter term may mean nothing to the laymen, but it will be more fully described later.

No Shock Danger.

All danger of accidental shock has been eliminated in the machine, which is the latest development in X-Ray equipment and is manufactured by the General Electric company. It is absolutely shock proof. There are no exposed wires anywhere. The current enters the head, from whence the rays emanate, at a voltage of 220 volts through a heavily insulated cable. Inside the head, the current is stepped up to 100,000 volts.

where the powerful light from the X-Ray tube sends its rays flashing thru that particular part of the body that it is desired to photograph.

A patient, tossing about on the table or being moved into position for a picture by the operator, can touch any part of the machine with absolute safety.

The head, as that particular part of the mechanism which sends out the rays, is so arranged that it rotates in any direction desired and can be turned completely around. It can be adjusted to any angle or position desired. In a like manner the table upon which the patient lies can be tilted to almost any desired position or can be elevated at either end to a 20-degree angle.

Combined with its many uses for X-Ray purposes, the fluoroscopic feature, let it be understood here, is the power to look through the body and watch the organs of the body function by a special process.

Scientists have found that there are certain ingredients which are impenetrable by X-Rays. One of these is barium. So the patient under observation is given what is known to the medical profession as a "barium meal." This consists of a chocolate soda, containing barium in solution. He is then stood up before the fluoroscope, with a shield in front, and the rays are allowed to penetrate the body. The doctor can then watch the barium slowly trickle down the esophagus and thence into the stomach. Later as the barium solution progresses onward through the various organs, its course can be followed, and X-Ray pictures taken for a permanent record.

Local Donors.

There is only one other machine of its kind in western Pennsylvania, and that is to be found in the office of a doctor in Indiana, Pa. Even the big Pittsburgh hospitals have not yet been equipped with this type of machine, so the residents of New Castle may well feel proud of it and its donors, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson and her children Charles, Philip, Wilfred, George and Thomas. They purchased the machine and had it installed in the hospital in loving memory of the late Charles Harmany Johnson and Thomas W. Phillips.

The entire equipment consists of a viewing room, where the picture is displayed under special lighting and can be studied in minute detail by the doctors; the X-Ray and fluoroscopic room, where the big machine is located; another room in which is stored a portable X-Ray machine, which can be moved to the bedside of a patient who is too ill to be moved, and the dark room where the pictures are developed; a waiting room

ABE MARTIN On Criminal Attorneys

A NOTABLE CRIMINAL ATTORNEY CAGED WITH A TIGRESS

"Hain't you ever been kicked by a horse or fallen out of a haymow?" asked Pearl Curl, the celebrated criminal lawyer, of Mrs. Amy Purviance, in her cell at the County Jail.

"No, but my feet wuz froze once when I wuz a girl an' when I wuz little I drunk some lye, too," she replied.

Mrs. Purviance is charged with first degree murder for killin' her husband with a revolver, arsenic, an' a croquet mallet.

"Well," replied Attorney Curl, "we'll have to find a bump on you somewhere, or a streak of insanity, to save you from the noose. Have you any ancestors, an uncle, or gran'paw, mebbe, who wuz an inventor or writer, or an aunt or gran'maw who liked to hunt big game, or lived among the Indians? An' is there any lien on the property you're turnin' over to me?"

"No, sir, the farm is as clear as a whistle, an' my ancestors wuz all normal I guess, 'cept I have an uncle on mother's side who refused to sell his farm when he had a chance."

"Well, ther's two or three ways I think I kin save you from the noose, but you might have to stay almost a year in prison. The noose is the thing we want to look out fer, but a year's rest in prison never hurt nobody. What do you think of emotional insanity? Or we might fix it up to have you out o' town when your husband wuz killed."

"Yes, but I've confessed."

"Well, that won't hurt. We might show that he suicided if it wuzn' fer the d-d croquet mallet. You pulled a boner when you used that mallet. The mallet is goin' to make trouble. I like the emotional insanity plea the best, an' I think we'd better use it on account o' the mallet. Your husband wuz all right wuzn' he—that is, he wuz a good husband' an' you had no provocation?"

"No, he wuz a good husband', only I got tired lookin' at him."

"I see. Did your mother ever drop you on a brick sidewalk when you wuz a baby? Suicide might make a good plea, but ther agin we run into the mallet. Did you have a mallet, expectin' to use it, or wuz the mallet a second thought? O' course he could have swallowed arsenic an' he could have shot himself in the back. It's all nonsense to say a feller can't hold a revolver so's to hit himself any place he pleases. But he couldn't have killed himself with a croquet mallet. That would never occur to anybody no matter how tired o' life he wuz. What wuz the big idea in usin' the mallet? It might mean the noose fer you. Have you ever been in trouble before?"

"I killed my paw, but it never got out."

"That's fine. We'll go to work an' see if I can't work out somethin' along the line o' dementia Americana on account o' the d-d croquet mallet. I'm goin' to make that mallet save you from the noose if I kin. I'll see you tomorrow, an' don't talk."

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Cool wave centering on 25 will not be expected to go far below normal but will be followed by a sharp rise in average temperatures centering on 28; warm wave centering on 28 will be of short duration and will be followed by a sharp drop in average temperatures that will be expected to continue well into September. Storm wave expected to cross continent during week centering on 28, while of mild intensity, will be important as the breeder of a cool, wet period to follow. As this cool period progresses, increase in precipitation will be general over the continent; principal increase in precipitation will be near meridian 90° and eastward from that meridian. Minor and minor evaporation points that will be expected to control North America precipitation during September will be located off the coast of southern California, bringing most precipitation to southern and western slopes and land approaching those slopes; influence that will be expected to allocate area of heaviest precipitation of September will be located almost identical to 90th meridian.

Principal cropweather features expected during September will appear in next weekly bulletin. Moon phases of the near future occur as follows, given to nearest hour of Greenwich Civil time: to adjust the time of these phases to your local standard time, count one hour earlier for each fifteen degrees you are located west from Greenwich; last quarter August 27 at 20 hours; new moon September 3 at 12 hours; first quarter 10 at 23 hours; full moon 18 at 23 hours; last quarter 26 at 2 hours; new moon October 2 at 22 hours.

Sun Spots and Weather

Last July 30, thru the A. P. Dr. Seth B. Nicholson, observer at Mount Wilson Observatory said: "A gigantic spot has been discovered near the equator of the sun. It has 80 times the magnetic intensity of ordinary sun spots and 8,000 times that of the magnetic field of the earth. This spot is 33,000 miles long and 20,000 miles wide. This spot will affect the earth again on August 14, and a series of magnetic storms may occur at that time."

That sun spot covered an area greater than the surface of the earth. Nothing more than a storm on the sun, but some storm. Many severe storms occurred on the earth near August 14, striking North America principally in Ontario and New England; also quite a severe earthquake in that section. Scientists who do not wish to acknowledge the electro-magnetic theory will claim such things are only co-incidental. All large sun spots do not cause severe storms upon the earth, but do have an effect on the earth's magnetic field. At the time a sun spot is formed, if the earth is one of the combination of planets whose relative positions and movements cause the sun spot, then a severe storm will occur on the earth; at times, severe storms at several points on the earth.
